Sultan and Constitutionalists Come to Terms.

ABDUL HAMID WILL ABDICATE

Ruler of Turkey Reported to Have Agreed to Retire From Power, But Not Unconditionally—Grand Vizier and Minister of War Withdraw Their Resignations—Constantinople Surrounded by Invading Troops.

London, April 21.—A telegram from Constantinople reports that the sultan and Committee of Union and Progress have arrived at an agreement. The sultan, it is reported, has offered to abdicate, but not unconditionally. Optimists believe that a satisfactory solution of the crisis will be attained without the sultan's abdication. The sultan summoned Hilma Pasha to the Yildiz Kiosk for a conference. If the crisis is averted Hilma Pasha may be appointed grand vizier.

RESIGNATIONS WITHDRAWN

Grand Vizier and War Minister Stand by the Sultan.

Constantinople, April 21.—Sultan Abdul Hamid is waiting in his palace for whatever may befall. He has not taken to flight and his grand vizier, Tewfik Pasha, has announced that, without fear, the sultan will remain with his family and accept resignedly the fate which has been prepared for him and his country.

Tewfik Pasha and the minister of war, Edhem Pasha, who sent in their resignations to the sultan late Monday night, decided to withdraw them Tuesday and the grand vizier is spending most of the time with his majesty. Nazim Pasha still is in command of the garrison, but no preparations have been made to offer any resistance to the advance of the Saloniki troops. The constitutionalist lines now envelop the city, but the commander-in-chief, General Husni Pasha, is still at Hademokoi, and there is little likelihood that the invading army will enter the city before tonight or Thursday.

It is understood that the Salonikins have submitted to the government a list of persons whose punishment is demanded for complicity in the recent mutiny. This list includes deputies, journalists and theologians. But apparently there is the utmost good feeling between the invaders and residents of the city, many of whom visited camps of the Saloniki troops and were received hospitably.

Two proclamations, signed by the commanding general of the army of investment, and addressed respectively to citizens of Constantinople and the garrison, have been issued. They have had a reassuring effect.

The Constantinople garrison is deserting to the side of the constitutionalists. The capital troops have been leaving the city in small batches since early on Sunday, but the outward flow set in heavily Tuesday. It is estimated that about 4,000 men have gone over to the invading army without opposition from their officers or comrades. One party took along a battery of machine guns, with horses and full ammunition wagons. None of those attempting to join the constitutionalists without arms were accepted.

TUNNEL INTO A BANK VAULT

Robbers Obtain About Fifteen Hundred Dollars.

Suffolk, W. Va., April 21.—Tunneling their way under four other buildings to reach the vaults of a bank, robbers gained admission to the Bank of Suffolk, stole a large amount of loose currency, gold and silver, and made their escape.

Although the loss was discovered by the bank officials Monday morning, no notification was then given to the police. It is thought the thieves must have spent at least ten days before they succeeded in reaching the bank by their underground course. It is believed that they finished their job and made their entrance to the bank either on Sunday or Sunday night. They attempted to break open the vault, but did not succeed. They secured about $1,500. The police have no clue.

SENT BACK TO CONFERENCE

Senate Not Satisfied With the Census Bill.

Washington, April 21.—The census bill was sent back to conference by the senate that its amendments relating to the civil service law and requiring the construction of a building for the work of the census in this city might be further considered and insisted upon.

The conferees had agreed to strike out the senate amendment requiring domicile in a state for one year as a prerequisite for the establishment of residence as a basis for apportionment of appointments among the several states, but they were instructed to further insist upon this provision. Senator Stone spoke at length in favor of free trade with the Philippine islands and for independence of the islands within a time to be agreed upon.

RIOT AT INSANE ASYLUM

Six Inmates and Three Attendants Injured.

Des Moines, Ia., April 21.—In a riot at the state insane asylum at Knoxville six inmates and three attendants were injured. Twenty inmates were returning from work in the fields when seven made a dash for liberty. A running fight ensued in which Guard Gilson suffered a fractured skull. Other seriously injured are Cornelius Anderson, guard, and James Berkeley, inmate.

ANOTHER BIG ATTENDANCE

At Meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Washington, April 21.—With the political clouds almost ready to break into a storm, the Daughters of the American Revolution held the second day's session of their eighteenth continental congress. Another big attendance, although it was known that the major portion of the day would be taken up with the calling of the lengthy roll, testified to the interest felt in the approaching election of a president general and other officers.

The first open manifestation of any partisanship regarding the presidency general came when Mrs. William Cumming Story, anti-administration candidate, received a tremendous ovation when, as regent of New York, she announced that her delegation would cast 126 votes. Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, "administration" candidate, sat in one of the upper boxes and observed the demonstration.

Reports of officers showed the organization to be in a flourishing condition, and that the interest was undiminished. In the words of Mrs. Donald McLean, the president general, the past year had been one of "unexampled success, prosperity, peace and harmony."

HARRIMAN GOING TO EUROPE

Railroad Magnate Decides to Take a Vacation.

New York, April 21.—A summer trip to Europe for a stay of indefinite length has been decided upon by E. H. Harriman. This will be his first visit abroad since he was operated upon for appendicitis several years ago and will give him opportunity for a rest, which it is believed will be beneficial. The recent Western trip was intended to be a vacation trip, but his interests in the regions he traversed were so extensive that he was fairly compelled to business activity and his journey on the whole was far from being restful. Since his return Mr. Harriman has been giving considerable attention to the affairs of corporations in which he is interested, and it is now believed that a genuine period of recreation, away from all contact with business matters, is necessary to give him the relaxation he should have. He probably will sail about the middle of June.

Mr. Harriman denied that his contemplated visit to Europe was by order of his physician, as reported in some quarters.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE

Secretary Wilson Satisfied It Has Been Eradicated in This Country.

Washington, April 21.—Satisfied that the foot and mouth disease in cattle, sheep, other ruminants and swine has been completely eradicated in the United States, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson has issued an order, effective April 24, releasing the entire country from the federal quarantine on account of that disease. Four states were quarantined because of an epidemic of foot and mouth disease—New York, Michigan, Maryland and Pennsylvania, the latter being the last to have the embargo lifted.

JEFFRIES WILL FIGHT JOHNSON

Former Champion Pugilist Will Re-Enter the Ring.

FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT MADE

Californian Declares He Will Defend His Title as Undeclared Heavyweight Champion of the World.

Declaration Cheered by Big Audience in New York—Wants Sufficient Time to Condition Himself.

New York, April 21.—"I will fight Mr. Jack Johnson. I will defend my title as undefeated heavyweight champion of the world."

Before an audience that packed the American Music Hall and in which there were as many women as men, James J. Jeffries made this formal announcement.

Men leaped from their seats, shouted and cheered, and the many women applauded. Their shrill and excited cries of approval, as they stood up and waved their handkerchiefs, added picturesqueness to a remarkable scene.

In the street were hundreds of persons who could not get into the theater, although high premiums were offered for seats.

There are several conditions attached to Jeffries' re-entry into the prize ring. First, Johnson must defeat Ketchel. Then Jeffries cannot sign articles for possibly ten months and he insists that the fight shall take place in this country and that it shall be unlimited as to rounds.

He made these conditions known orally to the newspapers when he handed the following written statement:

"I will say that I never felt better. I have held off making the announcement until I became sure that I was absolutely the same Jeffries as when I retired four years ago. I did so then after defeating every possible contender for the title. There was no one left for me to meet.

"The present heavyweight situation is the only thing that could have brought me from retirement. I have all the money I will need and there is no monetary consideration that could tempt me into the ring if I was not sure that I could easily defeat any challenger for the championship.

"As for Mr. Johnson, the tactics which he has employed, presumably to attempt to force a match, have been such that I felt that I would only lower myself by replying until I felt I was prepared to say that I would fight.

"At the expiration of my contract with William Morris, which positively forbids my signing any contract, pugilistic or otherwise, I will be ready to discuss terms for an unlimited round contest.

"All I will ask after that is for sufficient time to thoroughly condition myself, and should Mr. Johnson care to challenge me for the title I will do what I think I owe to the public, that is, to defend my title of undefeated champion of the world."

Jeffries' theatrical contract has five months yet to run, with an option of five months more.

Cassidy Succeeds Burton.

Cleveland, O., April 21.—James H. Cassidy, Rep., was elected representative in congress from the Twenty-first Ohio district to succeed Theodore E. Burton, recently chosen United States senator.

STEAMER COLLIDES WITH AN ICE FLOE

Lake Vessel Sinks and Five Men Are Drowned.

Mackinaw City, Mich., April 21.—Five men drowned when the steamer Eben Ward collided with a heavy ice floe and sank five miles west of here. The dead are:

John Hern, James Perry, John Memeroth, Kinney McKay and an unknown deck hand.

The boat went to the bottom in one of the deepest spots of the Straits of Mackinac and will be a total loss, together with her cargo of corn. She was bound from Milwaukee to Port Huron, Mich. So completely was the bow of the steamer shattered by the collision with the ice floe that she was flooded from stem to stern instantly. Five of her crew were caught asleep in their bunks and went to the bottom with the steamer. Survivors who happened to be on deck at the time of the accident had hardly time to float a yawl boat in which they rowed from the vessel just as her upper works were disappearing. They were picked up by the steamer Bennington of the Rutland line and brought to this city.

GALLAGHER ON THE STAND

For the Tenth Time Summoned as Witness in Bribery Cases.

San Francisco, April 21.—For the tenth time since his confession was recorded in 1907, James L. Gallagher, once chairman of the board of supervisors, was summoned as a witness in the trial of Patrick Calhoun. He repeated the story of official corruption that brought about the downfall of the Ruef-Schmitz administration and the indictment of a score of prominent business men associated with public service and other corporations.

Gallagher was called after Ferdinand P. Nicholas, who is alleged to have received a bribe from the defendant, had been subjected to an examination lasting three days.

Gallagher declared he had talked with Ruef about the application of the United Railroads for an overhead trolley permit before the fire, and that Ruef had requested him to ascertain if the permit would be granted by the board.

ACTIVE FOR PAST TEN YEARS

Smuggling Syndicate Defrauded Government Out of Large Sums.

New York, April 21.—Further investigation of the systematic smuggling of Paris gowns into this port led custom house officials to declare that the syndicate probably has smuggled in $1,000,000 worth of goods each year for the past ten years, thus defrauding the government out of $600,000 annually in customs duty.

Efforts to avoid criminal prosecution and to shield from public view prominent women for whom the $1,000 worth of recently seized gowns were intended, resulted in the offer by reputable attorneys, representing anonymous clients, of $250,000 to the government to drop the investigation.

The federal grand jury is investigating. It is intimated that the identity of the smugglers will be revealed.

SAVING BOYS IS THEIR AIM

Campaign of Education for Wayward Lads Begun in Boston.

Boston, April 21.—Saving the boys of the cities is the purpose of a movement begun in this city today. It will take the form of a "campaign of education" and will differ, it is said, from anything ever before tried in this country. Its purpose is the arousing of interest in the rescue of wayward, delinquent boys.

Cities and towns within twenty-five miles of Boston have been invited to assist in the movement. The programme includes teachers' gatherings on two Saturday mornings and two Sunday afternoon meetings for newsboys. The meetings will be addressed by prominent speakers of Boston and other cities. The campaign will continue until May 2.

FIVE MEN IN THE JURY BOX

Task of Obtaining Men to Try Captain Hains a Tedious One.

Flushing, N. Y., April 21.—After a two-days' attempt to get a jury to try Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., for the murder of William E. Annis at the Bayside Yacht club last August, court adjourned with five men in the jury box. Three jurymen were secured the second day. In the examination of prospective jurors it was apparent that both sides were striving to obtain men of advanced age and family responsibilities. The first four jurors accepted are all past fifty and men of large families.

In the course of examination of talesmen the defendant's counsel intimated that Captain Hains would not be called to testify in his own behalf.

Minnesota Village on Fire.

Wadena, Minn., April 21.—Fire which started in the store of the Verdale Mercantile company, has practically destroyed the business section of Verdale, a village six miles east of Wadena. The postoffice, Calone's saloon, Morrill's drug store and the barber shop of Lem Hans are in ruins. The First National bank is on fire and probably cannot be saved. The entire village is threatened.

MRS. BOYLE IS LIVING IN LUXURY

While Husband Borrows Money to Buy Stogies.

Mercer, Pa., April 21.—It was learned here that the efforts of Former Judge Miller, counsel for Mrs. James H. Boyle in the Whitla abduction case, to have Ohio courts claim jurisdiction over the woman had fallen flat. Ohio authorities expect to take no action in the case unless the woman's conviction in Pennsylvania should fail. Had Cleveland officials desired Mrs. Boyle, habeas corpus proceedings could have been instituted on the grounds of prior indictment in that state. There is said to have been an agreement between the prosecutors of the two states, however, and Ohio authorities have agreed to let her be tried here first on account of the more stringent laws of this state. A capias from Ohio for the woman and one for Boyle are in the hands of Sheriff Chess of this county, however, to be served if either of them should be released here.

Judge Miller has not returned, and it is understood he is endeavoring to obtain witnesses to use in establishing an alibi for Mrs. Boyle. The alibi seems to be the strongest card the defense has.

While Boyle is reputed to have called on his relatives for money to buy stogies, Mrs. Boyle is said to be living in luxury. It is reported that rich relatives have deposited to her credit here $1,000. No one but her attorney, it is said, knows where it came from, but it is taken as evidence of the truth of the report that she is from a prominent and wealthy family.

He mentioned $10,000 for each member of the board. I reported to Ruef that the ordinance could be put through, and at this meeting it was understood that I was to receive $15,000, Wilson was to get $10,000, and the others $4,000 each."

Gallagher testified that he had received $35,000 in three payments, but that he had disbursed it to other members of the board.

NORTHERN PACIFIC GETS BIG CRANE

Nine Ton Locomotive Magnetic Crane Received for Use in Brainerd Shop Yards

TRAVELS BY ITS OWN POWER

Does the Work of Many Men in Unloading Iron From Cars
in Yards

The Brainerd Northern Pacific shops recently received a nine ton magnetic locomotive crane. The machine is mounted on standard gauge trucks and can propel itself to any part of the shops or yards. The machine resembles an ordinary steam crane except that instead of a set of grappling hooks it has a heavy circular mass of iron which can be charged with magnetic electricity at will. When the current is on the crane will, it is said, lift a mass of iron weighing nine tons. It was in use in the yards near the depot today and a large crowd gathered to see it work. It was only a short time in unloading a carload of switch frogs, lifting them with ease and placing them on the freight house platform.

ESDON ETCHINGS.

Myrtle Hammett and Irving Welliver were married at Brainerd April 14, 1909. They are talking of going to Dakota for the summer. Our best wishes for their future happiness goes with them.

Adolph Johnson met with a serious loss the day he had the wood saw at his place. He lost his barn, eight head of cattle, three of them being milch cows, a new seeder, wagon, hay and many other things. The barn was so badly afire that it was impossible to save anything except the horses.

There was a special school meeting held at the school house last Friday night and it was decided to have school two weeks longer, to get the $50 state aid, even if only five scholars could attend. Some thought it better to have it, so as the majority rules we are to have the extra school.

The Aid Society, of Bay Lake, was to meet at Mrs. M. L. Hammett. Owing to bad roads there were none in from Bay Lake and a very few from around Esdon.

Will Rosenkranz and family were visitors at Esdon Wednesday evening also Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Welliver.

DAME RUMOR.

We often wonder how any person can be persuaded into taking anything but Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung trouble. Do not be fooled into accepting "own make" or other substitutes. The genuine contains no harmful drugs and is in a yellow package. H. P. Dunn. mwf

Another Insomnia Cure.

For sleeplessness fill a hot water bottle and place it under the ankles. It works better there than at the soles of the feet. Put a rather small amount of very cold water in another rubber bottle and lay it on the head. The cold water is more comfortable than ice, which seems exciting rather than soothing. At first, says a woman who has tried this cure, I would get to sleep in about an hour and wake again as the water heated. The cold water would have to be changed four or five times during the night. Then once changing was enough, and now if the brain begins to spin after I lie down for sleep I put on the cold water bottle and am asleep soon for the whole night.—Harper's Bazar.

During the spring every one would be benefited by taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. It furnishes a needed tonic to the kidneys after the extra strain of winter, and it purifies the blood by stimulating the kidneys, and causing them to eliminate the impurities from it. Foley's Kidney Remedy imparts new life and vigor. Pleasant to take. H. P. Dunn. mwf

Strangulation Caused Death

The Akeley Herald has the following regarding the death of Wm. T. Nelson whose funeral occurred in this city last Sunday:

"William Thomas Nelson, aged 28 years, passed away at his home on West Broadway, Wednesday afternoon, of pleuro-pneumonia, the immediate cause being strangulation due to his inability to raise the accumulated phlegm. He had been ill for about two weeks, but thought he was merely troubled with a severe cold or grip. He was not confined to his bed until the day of his death and had shaved himself two days before that time. Mr. Nelson was an exemplary young man, highly honored and esteemed by a large circle of friends. He and his loving and devoted wife had just erected a beautiful cottage and had recently purchased a tract of land in this vicinity. Their home life was most loving and happy indeed. The bereaved family, but more especially the prostrated wife, have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their great and untimely loss."

NORTHERN PACIFIC GETS BIG CRANE

Nine Ton Locomotive Magnetic Crane Received for Use in Brainerd Shop Yards

TRAVELS BY ITS OWN POWER

Does the Work of Many Men in Unloading Iron From Cars in Yards

The Brainerd Northern Pacific shops recently received a nine ton magnetic locomotive crane. The machine is mounted on standard gauge trucks and can propel itself to any part of the shops or yards. The machine resembles an ordinary steam crane except that instead of a set of grappling hooks it has a heavy circular mass of iron which can be charged with magnetic electricity at will. When the current is on the crane will, it is said, lift a mass of iron weighing nine tons. It was in use in the yards near the depot today and a large crowd gathered to see it work. It was only a short time in unloading a carload of switch frogs, lifting them with ease and placing them on the freight house platform.

Old time barristers in England did not openly receive fees for their services. An early method of collecting fees was the pocket which in mediaeval times a barrister used to have placed in the back of his gown, into which the solicitor would surreptitiously slip the fee.

People past middle life usually have some kidney or bladder disorder that saps the vitality, which is naturally lower in old age. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects urinary troubles, stimulates the kidneys, and restores strength and vigor. It cures uric acid troubles by strengthening the kidneys so they will strain out the uric acid that settles in the muscles and joints causing rheumatism. H. P. Dunn. mwf

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Thousands of millions of cans of Royal Baking Powder have been used in making bread, biscuit and cake in this country, and every housekeeper using it has rested in perfect confidence that her food would be light, sweet, and perfectly wholesome. Royal is a safeguard against the cheap alum powders which are the greatest menacers to health of the present day.

ROYAL IS THE ONLY BAKING POWDER MADE FROM ROYAL GRAPE CREAM OF TARTAR

"That's a rather curious looking powderweight," said one of Mr. Newlywed's friends, taking up a brownish object, round and about half an inch thick, from the desk.

"Yes," said Mr. Newlywed. "It's only a temporary one. It's my wife's first puff paste tart shell."

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

BEAR RAID MADE ON WHEAT PIT

Considerable Confusion in the Chicago Market.

BULLS WITHOUT A LEADER

Patten Did Not Come to the Relief of the Bulls, as They Had Expected. Raid Weeded Out Small Margined Traders and Enabled Shorts to Indulge in Profit Taking—Natural Swing of Speculative Pendulum.

Chicago, April 21.—Bulls in wheat were leaderless during the day, and a dashing bear raid wrought considerable confusion in the pit when July, closing at $1.12½, showed a net loss of 3½¢.

The raid weeded out small margined traders, enabled a lot of profit taking by shorts, not to mention the reinstatement of long lines previously disposed of at a higher figure.

"It's old mother earth warning Patten et al. that Secretary Wilson knows something about crops himself," said the bears.

"It's just a natural swing of the speculative pendulum. There has been a long continued advance, the reaction is only natural," said the bulls. "Why didn't the Patten crowd support the market?" was a question frequently put by small speculators who had pinned their faith to the Patten position and expected that the bull leader would take care that prices did not run away.

"Because its none of Patten's business," came the answer from the Patten aides. "He has a lot of wheat, but he is not manipulating prices. He knows that conditions will take care of the price. He has neither made nor unmade prices, and has no responsibility in the matter."

Whether Patten purchases were made is a matter for conjecture, although there was an unconfirmed report that the bull leader bought heavily at the decline and stopped July before it got beyond $1.12½ in its headlong tumble.

Customers of the Patten house, however, declared that there was nothing throughout the day to indicate that the leading trader had taken any interest in the market. Apparently he left it to its fate, although his eyes seldom left the blackboard where quotations are marked up.

BUSINESS IN WASHINGTON

Will Prevent Stephenson Testifying at the Present Time.

Madison, Wis., April 21.—United States Senator Isaac Stephenson will not come to Madison to testify before the senatorial primary investigation committee at the present time.

Mr. Stephenson wired Sargeant-at-Arms Falconer of the senate that consideration of the tariff legislation would keep him in Washington. The telegram was in response to a subpoena sent by special delivery letter summoning him to appear before the investigation committee.

Richard White, a Stephenson supporter, occupied the stand at the day's session. He told of a proposition made to a Democrat to assist in the nomination of Mr. Stephenson and said that it had been the custom for years for Democrats to assist in electing delegates and others.

White testified that La Follette promised him the appointment as United States marshal in case he was elected United States senator in 1904, but that the promise was not kept.

It developed during White's examination that a fake telegram was sent to Assemblyman Thomas F. Ramsey, a Democrat, on March 4, arranging a pair with Assemblyman Fenelon, a Republican, who was ill at his home in Fond du Lac county. Ramsey received the telegram and absented himself, as did two other Democrats during the vote in joint assembly, when Stephenson's election was effected.

CHESTER JORDAN ON TRIAL

Massachusetts Man Charged With Wife Murder.

Cambridge, Mass., April 21.—Chester S. Jordan was placed on trial here for the murder of his wife, Honora, in Somerville last September. The day was occupied in drawing the jury and reading the indictment, which charges that Jordan killed the woman, and then, dismembering her body, placed it in a trunk with the intention of throwing it into the sea. The twelve men who will decide the young man's fate will be taken to the different places which the government regards as being the scene of some of the events in connection with the murder. Jordan appeared in good health and spirits.

Goes to Prison for Life.

Waterloo, Ia., April 21.—Last November Mike Halen of Oelwein got into a fight with a fellow citizen, George Bennett, and during the melee Bennett drunkenly told Halen he might as well kill him. Halen then butchered his adversary with a jack-knife. Halen pleaded guilty to murder and Judge Hobson of West Union sentenced him to life imprisonment.

Peter Pert--Promiser.

A SATIRE—BY L. F. COLE.

A new exigency had arisen in the history of fraternal benefit societies. New conditions demand new men with new talents. The need now was for a man gifted in the art of making promises. Not an ordinary, vulgar, every day promiser, but a genius in the art—a smooth promiser. The period when the old, ugly, baseless, crude and bungling promises were accepted had gone. The time now was when either of two things was required, namely:—to make only such promises as could actually be carried out, or to promise impossible things so ingeniously that the promisee would think it could be done. Most any humdrum person could make promises capable of fulfillment, but it required superb natural gifts with subsequent high pressure training to produce a promiser who could promise the impossible so plausibly that it would look possible.

Peter Pert was a promiser by both nature and art. His genius betrayed itself very early in his mundane career. Even before he was out of his cradle his mother got hints of his ability as a promiser. Many and many a time was there the calm and somnolent promise of a quiet night. But, alas, the fulfillment! In his boyhood he had the knack of acquiring properties from his schoolmates on the basis of promises—mostly. And the singular thing about it was that the promises were so cunningly framed, that the promisee more than half believed he had received due value for goods surrendered. Later in life when he went into business his commercial career was distinguished with the same sort of thing. It is perfectly astonishing how he could float his promises. There always seemed people who were willing to take them. It is true that when settling time came he could not "cash in." It is also true that he lost nothing, for the simple reason that he had nothing to lose. And the men who were the losers had a mystified sense that somehow or other the thing should have worked and, that it did not was a commercial conundrum which they could not solve and which left Peter Pert, in spite of all, with no stain on his business escutcheon.

A fraternal benefit society had been studying his abilities and watching his career. They became satisfied that he was the very man they wanted. They needed a promiser. Peter Pert was a promiser of first-class ability. They would create a new office in the order and fill it with this man. He should thereby become a member of the governing board. The title of his office should be "Supreme Promiser." It should be his duty to take effect plans, exploded propositions, impossible schemes, wrong-end-to methods, put them in the crucible of his genius, submit them to the fire of his diuine art, drop in a hand-full or so of the improbable, add a good bunch of the impossible and a couple shovel fulls of the fraudulent, then combine and recombine until the finished product would look as honest and fair as an angel straight out of glory. Peter Pert—Promiser, could do this. They were confident that he could. So they created the office and installed him therein, a part of the installation ceremony being as follows:

"I am about to install you as the first incumbent of the office of Supreme Promiser. It will be your duty to think up more things to promise. You will shoot these promises through with the colors of your own imagination. Make promises. Make glowing, brilliant, prismatic promises. Make promises so enticing that thoughtless people will open their mouths, like fledglings in the nest, and swallow them whole. Make promises. That is your function. Never mind about their fulfillment. We will attend to that. Make promises."

Well might Peter Pert be envied his opportunity. To have a roll top desk, a stenographer and nothing to do but concoct promises. Here is his first effort:

To John Doe, aged thirty-seven he says:—On your death I will pay your widow $1.00. Should you loose foot hand or eye I will pay you $250. Should you break an arm or leg I will pay you $25 to $50. Should you attain the age of seventy I will pay you $100 for ten years. Now, John Doe, all you have to do to obtain these benefits is to pay us fifty-five cents a month. You will pay fifteen cents a month in addition to cover expense of running the society and your local dues of course; but fifty five cents is all you pay for the benefits I have named. And five cents of this amount is forever set aside for a "reserve fund" and "according to the experience of fraternal societies it is believed this reserve fund will keep the assessments so as to NEVER EXCEED twelve in any one year."

John Doe bites. And John Doe is multiplied by one thousand, by ten thousand, by one hundred thousand. On January first about one hundred thousand John Does had swallowed the promises and the order had obligated itself to the tune of about one hundred and twenty five million dollars. The attention of these members was constantly riveted on the Reserve Fund. If Peter Pert ever caught a member with a scratch pad on his knee, biting a pencil and figuring, the black winged bird of doubt casting a shadow over his features, he would immediately yell "look at our reserve fund—$800,000!" And the fellow would forget what he was trying to prove and go away with a sort of half satisfied look on his face.

One evening Peter Pert—Promiser, sat in his office alone. The blinds were drawn. The apartment was brilliantly lighted and gave evidence of a refined and luxurious taste. He was sunk deep in a beautiful chair and was a picture of self satisfied content. The smoke of a fine Havana drifted in graceful circles toward the ceiling. There was a ring and, in response to a light-hearted invitation, a plain, little old man entered and presented his card, at the same time offering an apology for intruding at a time when the Promiser was at rest; but justifying himself with the further statement that he wished his interview to be private. On the card the Promiser read "Nathan F. Congers" and this startled him a little on account of its singular resemblance to National Fraternal Congress.

"Well, Mr. Congers, what can I do for you," said Peter, somewhat short-ly.

Mr. Congers. It can't be done.

P. P. What is it that can't be done?

Mr. C. Why your benefit scheme.

P. P. Why not?

Mr. C. Because you do not collect enough to redeem your promises.

P. P. Why, have you noticed our reserve fund? We have paid every loss and have something like $800,000 on hand. What do you think of that?

Mr. C. Reserve fund? You have not got a dollar of reserve fund. You have a small surplus due to low death rate and that due to recent medical selection. The claim that you have a reserve fund is ridiculous. You say that "according to the experience of fraternal societies it is believed this reserve fund will keep the assessments so as never to exceed twelve in any one year." Of what society is that the experience? The statement is false and you know it is false. Who believes that your alleged reserve fund will hold down the assessments to twelve a year? Not you nor any one else who thinks. Why if every one of your present one hundred thousand members were to pay twenty-four times a year on your present table of rates from this minute until the last one is dead you would not, even then, have money enough to pay off all your promises. Don't talk to me of reserve fund when you are collecting less than fifty cents on the dollar of all your promises. Do you know what your promises to pay aggregate?

Somehow or other Mr. Pert felt that he was in the hands of a master but how to extricate himself he hardly knew; but replying to the question, said, "certainly I know. The aggregate is about one hundred twenty five million dollars."

Mr. C. Do you know what the aggregate revenue from your entire membership will be during their entire lives reckoning on your present table of rates and at the average age of thirty-seven?

P. P. Why, no; I had not figured that. It don't belong to my department anyhow.

Mr. C. Well, I have figured it and I know. Your total income amounts to about twenty-five million dollars. Allowing a very generous gain from interest it might possibly give you a total of forty million dollars. With forty millions how do you propose to wipe out a debt of one hundred and twenty-five millions?

P. P. I don't propose to wipe out anything. It is not my business to wipe out. It is my business to make promises. To make promises that will go. And I have. Haven't I? Look at that one hundred thousand members. They have accepted my promises and their eyes stick out with admiration every time they think of that reserve fund. Who are you anyway? I think I have heard of you before. You are the fellow who goes round knocking the efforts of genuine philanthropists, like myself. You are a musty theorist. You are a two-legged hypothesis. You are a guess. You are an animated commutation table. You are in cahoots with these fellows they call Actuaries and I hate the whole push of them. I think our interview is at an end.

And the modest Mr. Congers made his obeisance and retired. What was he in the presence of such vast genius?

Genius likes to justify itself, particularly in its own opinion. So after the departure of Mr. Congers Peter Pert—Promiser fell into a soliloquy and, as he soliloquized aloud, I can tell you how it ran.

The old stupid! The very idea of reckoning up our debts and placing them over against our assets! That might be all very well for banks and factories, and such; but fraternal benefit societies are different. Why we issue contracts some of which we will not have to pay off for fifty years! The idea of looking ahead fifty years! Who ever heard of such a thing? That old curmudgeon would actually have us prepare to pay off that contract when it matures fifty years ahead. How very amusing! Pay present losses, I say. Devil catch the hindmost. If a man is fool enough to live fifty years longer he is not entitled to anything. Die quick and get your money, says I. Of course those who live the longest will pay the most for we expect them to keep on paying as a sort of punishment for living. An they will get the least. The least? Well they won't get anything. I guess that is "least" enough. That is so far away, though, they do not see it. They don't see it NOW anyway. You can't see it without thinking a little. And these people don't think. Suppose I am going to think for them? Not me. I am the Promiser. I just think enough to promise. Thinking is awkward business, anyhow. We don't want people to think. It would spoil our society. All we want is for them to shut their eyes and open their mouths. We will do the rest. And that is what they do. O they pay, too, of course. If you don't believe it look at that one hundred thousand putting in forty millions, as that old duffer said (and I guess he was right, too) and expecting to pull out one hundred twenty-five millions. Somebody is going to get left; but so long as each fellow thinks it is the other one, my job is secure. So I think I will promise a little more, require a little less and push on for another one hundred thousand members. So between these agreeable meditations and the soothing influence of his fragrant Havana he drops off into a gentle doze.

AFTER WORD

The foregoing is an attempt to characterize, by the use of satire, the operations of a certain Fraternal Benefit Society which operates on a totally deficient rate. The average age of its membership on Jan. 1st, 1908, was 36.98 years. The insurance rate fixed for that age is fifty-five cents, or $6.60 per year. The National Fraternal Congress table of rates gives, for that age, a rate of $1.49 per month; or $17.88 per year. This rate is declared by the leading insurance actuaries of America and by the laws of some fifteen states, including the state of Minnesota, to be a safe minimum "level rate" for whole life insurance. That is to say it is a rate below which no society can conduct a whole life insurance business to a successful termination. It is a "net mortality rate" and contains no provision for the expenses of the society using it.

THE UNITED ORDER OF FORESTERS conducts its whole life insurance on the basis of the National Fraternal

Congress rates. It is up to the intelligence of the citizens of Minnesota to discriminate between societies so cheap that they can by no possibility keep their promises and societies doing business on a rate which will enable them to pay off all obligations as they mature. The time is past when there was any need of experimenting with rates. Join the UNITED ORDER OF FORESTERS and you have a right to believe that you will thereby establish a rate which will remain level thru life.
